

PITCHER & FLACCOMIO

RENT, SELL AND MANAGE PROPERTIES
IN FLORENCE AND TUSCANY

WELCOME

November... when Florence and the surrounding countryside settle into the calm that winter brings. With no particular warning, the city of Florence returns to itself. Fewer visitors fill the streets, and Florentines, bundled up against the cooler weather, scurry or stroll about their business. Florence in the winter has a unique charm. With dusk coming earlier each day, the shop windows seem to take on a special, warm glow. The city fills with the scent of roasting chestnuts, and in the countryside, the vibrant gold and red of autumn paints the trees, the grapes have been picked, crushed and are fermenting safe in their tanks. The olives groves are dotted with ground cloth circles as the olives are harvested, tree by tree. Enjoy the first press of oil, and the first warmth of the fireplace as the nights grow cold, with best wishes from SUZANNE, CORSO, BEI, LESLIE, VANNI, ANNA PIA, RAFFAELLA, AND MARISA.

PITCHER & FLACCOMIO PICKS FOR NOVEMBER

A NOVEMBER NOTE FROM SUZANNE: HOLD THE DATE AND DONATE

Ciao everyone! Yet again, we need your help. On December 2nd each year the American International Women's League ONLUS organises a Christmas bazaar. I am asking you all to think about what you would like to do to help make this a fabulously rich affair.

We need a lot of things to sell, we need your clothing, so please go through your closets (and those of your significant other, plus your kids, etc.) to collect the things you no longer need. We are looking for all types of clothing plus purses, gloves, scarves, evening gowns, cocktail dresses, jewellery (diamonds, or not) and hats.

Please let us know as we have volunteers going around Florence collecting things for the bazaar. Call Roberta Magni on number 3333956718

Another idea.... ask your local dry cleaner if they have anything that their clients have not collected over the past year, perhaps they would donate abandoned clothing. Naturally, please take a moment to be sure that all you are donating is clean and in good condition, then give our bazaar chairperson a ring, SIMONA GAZZARI on number 3397629647 or contact her on simpo@live.it

Please look at our website AILO at: www.aiolflorence.org/activities/

Children are also on our list, so if you have children, grandchildren or know of any child living close by, please ask them for all of the toys that they have outgrown. Here again they must be complete and in good working order. Call JULIET GIRALDI at 055828862 or email juliet.giraldi@tiscali.it

As always there is a lottery with of wonderful prizes and tickets are already flying out the door, so call GAIL COCKE on number 3661290222 for tickets and to collect lottery prizes.

Don't forget to mark the date and place on your calendar so you can come and replace everything you donated and have fun doing it! There will, of course, be food and drinks donated by the ELFINS of General Electric. I very much look forward to hearing from you, as we do NEED all the help we can get to make this event a great success.

Convitto della Calza - Piazza della Calza, 6, 50125 Firenze, right near the Piazza of Porta Romana.

Dates: 10th and 11th of December.

Times: Saturday 2nd from 15.30 to 19.00

Sunday 3rd from 10.30 to 19.00

Ciao,
Suzanne

BEST EVENT FOR NOVEMBER: FLORENCE WINE EVENT

November 18 and 19

(Text from: theflorentine.net)

“What’s in a name? In the case of this particular one, pretty much all you need to know. If wine and Florence are involved, we’ll be there. But some details for posterity: Florence Wine Event will toast to its tenth year in a little-known location in the Bellosguardo area, not far from piazza Tasso, the hidden Conventino di via Giano della Bella. It won’t be just wine on the menu: sake and spirits, truffles and torte, cold cuts and cookies will all be up for tasting (and for sale). Producers hail overwhelmingly from Tuscany, with a few outliers from Friuli, Sardinia and Piedmont thrown in for fair play. Entrance is 15 euro, which includes a drink card, a glass and (handy) carrying case, and a catalog of featured producers. For more information, see the website.”

BEST P&F RENTAL PICK FOR NOVEMBER: APARTMENT IN A PRESTIGIOUS HISTORICAL BUILDING RIGHT ON THE ARNO RIVER

“A superb apartment in a wonderful location, handy to everything Florence has to offer. The sheer height of the ceilings and the wooden decorations are impressive as is the delightful terrace, except for some traffic noise.”

Situated in one of Florence’s most prestigious buildings situated on the river Arno between Ponte Santa Trinita and Ponte alla Carraia and within a short walking distance from all of Florence’s most important monuments and museums. 10 minutes to the Pitti Palace, Boboli gardens and Piazza della Signoria. The neighbourhood is famous for its many boutiques, artisan workshops, antique stores and numerous first class restaurants and trattorie. The British Institute Library called The Sir Harold Acton Library, is also in the same building which offers foreigners many interesting lectures, and Italian/English language school.

A refurbished apartment on the 1st floor with an elevator and doorman, measures approx. 250 sq.mts. (2,500 sq. ft.) together with approx. 60 sq. mts. (600 sq. ft.) of terrace and consists of:

Entrance

Hall

Living/dining room (access to the terrace and fireplace)

Kitchen (with table for 6/8 persons)

Pantry

Loft/study (over kitchen area)

3 bedrooms (1 double and 1 small double, 1 with twin beds)

2 bathrooms (1 en-suite with tub and hand shower, 1 with shower)

Powder room (with toilet, basin)

1 terrace (with terrace furniture)

The floors are parquet and the ceilings are “a cassettone”, wooden hand painted approx. 6.5 mts. high with windows facing the river Arno. The soft furnishings are silk and satin combined with Imperial period furniture, mixed with modern accessories.

The terrace has a dining table and 2 benches for approx 10 persons, and several couches for outdoor lounging. Toperi plants and jasmine vines complete the decorations on the terrace.

BEST FESTIVAL FOR NOVEMBER: LO SCHERMO DELL'ARTE

November 15-19

(Text from: theflorentine.net)

“Contemporary art comes to the big screen at this multifaceted film festival. Active in Florence since 2008, Lo Schermo dell'Arte spotlights films old and new, promotes training projects and artist residencies and collaborates with local, regional and international institutions to bring exciting installations and performances to the city. The 10th edition opens with the inauguration of Directing the Real: Artists' Films and Video in the 2010s, an exhibition featuring 20 video works by young, emerging artists (6pm, November 14, Galleria delle Carrozze, Palazzo Medici Riccardi). Buzzworthy guest of honor is Egyptian visual artist and musician Hassan Khan, recipient of the Silver Lion at the 2017 Venice Biennale. Khan will give a lecture on his creative process (3.45pm, November 16, Cango Cantieri Goldonetta) and will be present for screenings of two of his key works, Jewel and Muslimgauze RIP (6pm, November 16, La Compagnia). For festival details, see the website.”

BEST MARKET FOR NOVEMBER: MERCATO TEDESCO DI NATALE OPENS THE CHRISTMAS SEASON

November 29 - December 17

Hot mulled wine, great beer and a salty, smoky wurstel – all can be found in Piazza Santa Croce starting at the end of November, at the Mercato Tedesco di Natale (German Christmas Market). Traditional German food and craft products fill the square, there are also seventeen other countries represented in over fifty stands. A small Christmas village of charming wooden huts, with open areas of tables and chairs where you can sit and enjoy some of the rich German food on offer. Don't forget to try the apple strudel and the hot mulled wine! Open daily from 10am - 10pm.

BEST MUSIC EVENT FOR NOVEMBER: SEASON LAUNCH BY THE ORCHESTRA OF TOSCANA AT TEATRO VERDI

November 8 and 30

(Text from: theflorentine.net)

“The Orchestra della Toscana teams up with young students from various Tuscan conservatories to usher in a new season at its inaugural concert. Conducted by Daniele Rustioni with Ukraine-born Roman Simović as violin soloist, the first show of the new season will feature a high-impact lineup of music from Prokofiev, Ravel, Stravinsky and Borodin (9pm, October 27). The cello takes center stage at the second concert, conducted by Enrico Dindo and spanning Strauss to Schumann. But a surefire early-season highlight will be the November 30 concert for Festa della Toscana, a celebration of peace and justice in light of the 1786 abolition of the death penalty in Tuscany. For the full calendar of concerts and ticketing information, see the ORT website.”

BEST SPORT FOR NOVEMBER: THE 34th FLORENCE MARATHON

November 26

If you aren't exhausted from the CORRI LA VITA, try the Florence Marathon.

Step by step all along its 42 kilometres and 195 meters you are surrounded by centuries of art, history and culture, a unique emotion that can only be experienced by those who run in Florence. Year after year, thousands of sportspeople and enthusiasts from all over the world come to participate in this classic race on the last Sunday in November.

This extraordinary increase in participation also testifies to the constant attention given to the organisation of the race. Florence Marathon is now the second Italian marathon (after Rome), and among the 20 most important marathons in the world. The route takes you by all those landmarks of singular beauty that have made Florence famous worldwide: views over the enchanting hills and countryside, Piazza della Signoria, Ponte Vecchio (to mention only just a few of historical importance), Piazza Santa Croce, and it begins and ends in the magnificent Piazza del Duomo.

BEST EXHIBITION FOR NOVEMBER: LIGHTS BY ADRIAN PACI

November 11 - February 11

(Text from: theflorentine.net)

“Albanian artist Adrian Paci makes his Tuscan debut with Lights to Serve the Night (Di queste luci si servirà la notte), a solo exhibition exploring the concepts of migration, identity and ebbs and flows of populations. For Paci, mobility is an ontological condition of the human race. The Museo Novecento is the main hub of Lights to Serve the Night, exhibiting 15 works—three of which have never before been displayed—while clustered work at Le Murate and satellite sites in Pelago and Montelupo Fiorentino will expand the show's reach. Paci's central themes are highlighted through rather esoteric means: a highlight of this show will be the “skeleton” of a tentacled boat that was recently sent down the Arno, digging a groove in the river floor to reveal its depths. A video of the installation's findings and artistic statement will be on display in the Museo Novecento's Sala Grande. For more information, see the Museo Novecento website."

BEST DINING OUT FOR NOVEMBER: FOOD AND WINE IN PROGRESS AT STAZIONE LEOPOLDA

November 27 and 28

This month, let's skip the restaurants and get ourselves over to the massive Food and Wine in progress event! More than 1,500 Italian cooks, some 200 certified sommeliers and a whole lot of hungry visitors will fill up the Stazione Leopolda for Food and Wine in Progress. Over the two days of the fair, open to the public and trade professionals alike, visitors can explore the food and wine industry, from family-run operations to megabrands.

In the 'Barman Style' section, Italian mixologists will show off their signature cocktails, while cooking shows with starred chefs and several sit-down meals round out the program.

BEST OF THE REST FOR NOVEMBER

INK: FLORENCE TATTOO CONVENTION

November 3-5

(Text from: theflorentine.net)

"The Florence Tattoo Convention is a niche-y November fixture, rounding up international ink experts for a major showcase of the best in body and face art. Now in its tenth edition, the event closes its first decade by expanding its scope: in addition to customary workshops and conferences with leading artists, there will be musical events, including Friday night festivities with the Rap Pirata Crew and a set by DJ Gruff (November 3, 10pm); Saturday night fever with the Asian Dub Foundation (November 4, 11.45pm) and a "neorockabilly" night with the Di Maggio Connection (November 5, 10pm). Some 330 tattoo artists will be in town, including industry star Bill Loika of Tattoo Peter in Amsterdam. Expect a needle-sharp focus on specific techniques and the artists who excel in them, such as Indonesian tukul kayu (Hendra Folk and Albar Tikam); Mexican hand-poke (Samuel Olman) and Japanese Irezumi (Ryugen and Tenkiyru). For the full program, see the website."

MODAPRIMA EDITION 83: PITTI IMMAGINE PRESENTS FASHION AT STAZIONE LEOPOLDA

November 10-12

Pitti Immagine presents the 83rd edition of Modaprima, the fair showcasing clothing and accessories collections for men and women for autumn-winter, with a special focus on the bestsellers for spring-summer. Staged in one of the most beautiful locations in Florence, the 19th century Stazione Leopolda, Modaprima focuses once again on the centrality of the city with its great potential in terms of appeal and image, characteristics that contribute to the success of every event that is held there.

Ready-to-wear

A point of reference for fashion created and produced for the large scale retailers who meet in Florence to present their latest products to an international audience, Modaprima will turn the spotlights on around 100 collections, mainly produced by Italian companies along with a few selected European manufacturers that specialize in this production segment.

Accessories

Following the success of the last editions, focus on Modaprima Accessories, the new section dedicated to the fundamental drivers of fashion and reference components of the contemporary fashion scene: accessories. Modaprima will be presenting an attentive proposal devised for buyers looking for new stylistic input.

International

Modaprima will be showcasing a selection of collections produced in Italy but with a broad international appeal created for a dynamic and constantly evolving retail trade.

FLY: HOT AIR BALLOON FESTIVAL

November 4-5

(Text from: theflorentine.net)

“Up, up and away! The first edition of the Festival delle Mongolfiere, highlighting hot air balloons and all things flight-related, will color the Florentine sky for two weekends of full-blown fun. Apart from the many chances to “ride high” over the city, there will be children’s activities, including a LEGO area, plus a kite-making workshop and the opportunity to watch their creations take flight. A must-see for all ages will be the illuminated hot air-balloon shows, set to music and scheduled for every night during the festival around 6.30pm. Finally, because we’re in Tuscany, a food component rounds out the program, of course: a risotto marketplace will run concurrently with the balloon festival, with various dishes and salumi sampler platters available for purchase at lunch and dinnertime. Tickets are 6 euro (5 euro if pre-purchased online) or 3 euro for children up to age 12. For more information, see the website.”

STATE MUSEUMS FREE FOR EVERYONE, AND CIVIC MUSEUMS FREE FOR RESIDENTS ON THE FIRST SUNDAY OF EVERY MONTH

November 5

#Domenicoalmuseo

On the first Sunday of every month, Florence opens up all of its state and civic museums free for residents of the city, or people born here. It's a fantastic initiative to reward the people who call Florence home, and make it easier for them to enjoy the city's treasures.

Here's a list of the state museums free to all: Uffizi, Accademia, Bargello, Medici Chapels, Pitti Palace (all museums), San Marco, Palazzo Davanzati, Medici Villas.

And the civic museums also free to residents: Palazzo Vecchio, Arnolfo Tower, Santa Maria Novella, Stefano Bardini Museum, Fondazione Salvatore Romano, Museo del Novecento, Brancacci Chapel in Santa Maria del Carmine.

Make a note that you still have to visit the ticket offices to collect a free ticket, and they close an hour before the museums close. Some offer special guided visits or tours, but you'll need to reserve those in advance. You'll find more information at: www.musefirenze.it

RADICAL UTOPIAS OPENS AT CCC STROZZINA

Until January 21

(Text from: theflorentine.net)

"Get schooled on the radical architectural movement in Florence of the 1960s and 1970s, a machine oiled by political upheaval, pop culture and psychedelia. The undercroft of Palazzo Strozzi shines the spotlight on the revolutionary work of groups and figures including Archizoom, Remo Buti, Gianni Pettena, Superstudio and 9999, but will look beyond architecture. "Radical Utopias" will feature video, design, installation and performance from this productive creative period, which saw young innovators working to squash the status quo in the Renaissance city, which influenced the art world at large. For additional information, see Palazzo Strozzi's website."

FLORENCE'S ARCHAEOLOGICAL MUSEUM PRESENTS THE FRAGILITY OF THE SIGN

Until November 26

(Text from: theflorentine.net)

"Dig deep at the newest exhibition from Florence's archaeological museum, which highlights prehistoric cave art and paintings, portrayed in images conserved by the Istituto Italiano di Preistoria e Protostoria, largely from Libya and the Horn of Africa. Among these are photographs from cave sites in the Tadrart Acacus mountain range, recently added to UNESCO's list of world heritage in danger, in part due to migratory patterns that mimic those of prehistoric times. Threats to these early art forms are the inspiration for the exhibition's "fragility" theme: the show begins with an introduction to the work of Paolo Graziosi, founder of the Istituto, woven into the larger topic of treasures in peril. LECTURES AND PRESENTATIONS IN NOVEMBER

BRITISH INSTITUTE LECTURE & CONCERT SERIES: SPECIAL CENTENARY EDITION

Every Wednesday at 18.00, the British Institute presents a lecture, concert or other event in the Sala Ferragamo in the Harold Acton Library, which is followed by an informal drinks reception. The Cultural Programme is open to members of the British Institute of Florence. Membership options range from 24 hours (€5) to Life (€500). The Institute also hosts special events throughout the month. This year the Institute celebrates their centenary, and the month's event program includes:

Upon this rock by Mark Roberts

2 November 2017 - 18:00

Book Presentation in English by Mark Roberts; with the participation of Monsignor Timothy Verdon.

Mark Roberts's new book, published in English by Coppini Editore of Florence, is a history of the papacy – and by extension of Europe – told through the lives of the popes, from St Peter the Apostle until our own day. In contrast to other treatments of this subject, which tend to concentrate on the temporal power, this book devotes more space to the popes as religious leaders.

A brief history of Virago Press

8 November 2017 - 18:00

Lecture in English by Lennie Goodings

There are very few imprints that have reader recognition: Virago is one of the exceptions.

Founded in 1973 by Carmen Callil, it has always had a sense of purpose, publishing brilliant novelists and provocative nonfiction and memoirs. Virago publishes books that look at the world through women's eyes, and welcome all readers; it has never seen itself as a niche publisher. The Virago Modern Classics, 40 years old in 2018, has rediscovered books such as Testament of Youth and writers including Elizabeth Taylor, Willa Cather, and Daphne du Maurier. Sarah Waters' six bestsellers, Marilynne Robinson's prize-winning novels, Margaret Atwood's and Sarah Dunant's novels, Maya Angelou's memoirs are just some of the Virago books that have changed the world. Lennie Goodings, Chair of Virago, has been editor at Virago for over 20 years.

An evening with the Chairman of the British Institute of Florence

15 November 2017 - 18:00

Event hosted by Richard Jacques

Richard Jacques, the Chairman of the British Institute's board of governors, is a Partner at Brunswick. Before joining the group in 2000 he was a diplomat based in Brussels representing the UK government on industry and competition issues.

The archive of the British Institute of Florence

22 November 2017 - 18:00

Lecture in English by Alyson Price

An introduction to the British Institute's archive by its archivist. In this talk Alyson Price provides an overview of the collections in our centenary year. The oldest object we have is dated 1792 and we continue to develop our holdings to this day.

All other news (I mean lies): the forging of 17th-century news discourse in a sceptical news society

29 November 2017 - 18:00

Lecture in English by Nicholas Brownlees

In seventeenth-century England, at the beginning of English periodical news, news writers were very aware of how the news market of the time worked within a fundamental paradox: whilst there was a great demand for news there was an equally strong scepticism regarding the credibility of that very same news. In my lecture I shall contextualize and examine the reasons undermining the credibility of news dissemination and consider the rhetorical strategies news writers employed to emphasise the reliability and truthfulness of their information. We will see that the problems news writers faced, and the solutions they reached, were not so dissimilar from those nowadays.

FILM EVENTS IN NOVEMBER

INTERNATIONAL CINEMA AND WOMEN'S FILM FESTIVALS

(Text from: <http://www.weekendinitaly.com/blog/florence-international-cinema-women-film-festival/>)

“Beginning on November 1, film enthusiasts will want to be at the Cinema Odeon, Piazza Strozzi in Florence, Italy for the International Cinema and Women Film Festival. The festival lasts through November 8. You may be interested in the book and DVD on 2,000 Years of Florence History, available here. It will be an enjoyable read before, after or during your Festival trip.

The festival is part of Mediateca Toscana's 50 Days of International Film. Known as the largest festival in Italy, afternoon films are five euros and evening prices go up just a bit to seven euros. You can expect to see writers, directors, actors, and filmmakers.

The more massive 50-day festival runs from mid-October to mid-December and is made up of smaller festivals like this one about women and international films. Other festivals include fiction, documentary, international, LGBT theme, and contemporary art. The festival events have been held each year since 2007.

The International Cinema and Women Film Festival is sponsored by a non-profit, cultural association, Laboratorio Immagine Donna that has its headquarters in Florence. Noting a severe lack of participation from women, director Paola Paoli set four primary goals for the organisation. The goals relate to:

- Enhancing women's history in movies and other methods of mass communication.
- Encourage the spread of accurately depicted audiovisual products that are worthy of attention.
- Organize events that promote women's growth and participation in cultural activities.
- Support culture inspired in recognizing human rights via audiovisual means.

Plus, during the same time frame as the International Cinema and Women Film Festival, you can also attend Florence: Ethnomusic Film Festival beginning on November 4 through 6. This ethnic festival is held at the same venue and is also part of the 50 days program.”

DANCE AND THEATRE FOR NOVEMBER

BEST ENGLISH LANGUAGE THEATRE FOR NOVEMBER: THE MEDICI DYNASTY AT IL FULIGNO

Until January 2018

The powerful historical drama transforms the Baroque church of the former convent of Il Fuligno into a room at Palazzo Pitti.

Here, the last descendants of the Medici family trace the history of the dynasty that ruled Florence for more than three centuries.

The performance explores the relationship between brother and sister, Gian Gastone and Anna Maria

Luisa, who were the last of the ruling Medici family line. As they struggle to reach a reconciliation, Anna Maria Luisa develops her idea for The Family Pact, which bequeathed the entire Medici patrimony to the city of Florence, on the condition that nothing could ever be removed from the city. This historic agreement is the reason that Florence is still the home of the great works of the Renaissance today. Over the one hour show, audiences get a glimpse of 300 years of the history of the Medici. Performed in English, the show is suitable for all ages.

Il Fuligno Complex, Via Faenza 48

Every Saturday at 7.00 P.M.

THE UNDERGROUND: A RESPONSE TO DOSTOEVSKY

November 2 & 3

(Text from: theflorentine.net)

“Is it possible to rid ourselves of the force which engulfs us daily and constitutes a redirecting of our destiny? Can we alter a plan nature has etched within us, and deviate from the habitual to uncover that which exists within, as if already defined, yet which remains until now un-lived?” These are the types of questions posed by The Underground: a Response to Dostoevsky, which recently debuted in Edinburgh and will make its Italian premiere in Florence, performed by Pontedera-based group, the Workcenter of Jerzy Grotowski and Thomas Richards. The show zeroes in on the existential themes central to Notes from Underground and moral dilemmas like those of The Brothers Karamazov. Fragments of both texts will be intermingled and brought to the stage for a boundary-pushing theatrical production with elusive narrative lines. Tickets are 15 euro (12 euro for over 60 and under 26); language is English with Italian supertitles. More information here.

RICHARD O'BRIEN'S ROCKY HORROR PICTURE SHOW CULT

November 7-11

(Text from: theflorentine.net)

“I would like, if I may, to take you on a strange journey.” If you haven't yet been initiated in to the fellowship of Rocky Horror fans, the Mandela Forum will afford you six raucous occasions to join. The Jim Sharman-Richard O'Brien classic comes to Florence for back-to-back performances in original language, of the original version, first staged at London's Royal Court Theatre in June 1973. A kitschy show paying homage to corny sci-fi and “scary” flicks, the play begins with a couple caught in a storm, who eventually make their way to the home of mad scientist Dr. Frank N. Furter, a transvestite with a peculiar creation he's eager to show off. It's hard to believe, but the show's first Broadway run closed after just 45 performances, a small price to pay for the cult fame that would come later. For tickets and more information, see the Mandela Forum website.

ANNUAL AUTUMN DANCE FESTIVAL: LA DEMOCRAZIA DEL CORPO

October 10 - December 30

From: theflorentine.net

“To paraphrase Dana Gould, our bodies all enter this world in the same way. They may not be equalizers, but they help us empathize: celebrate these democratic instruments and their many capabilities at the Virgilio Sieni dance and choreography company’s annual autumn festival, La Democrazia del Corpo. The program features workshops, conferences and meetings with international artists, dancers, choreographers and members of the art world, along with performances and lectures. Site-specific installations are set up and around 30 far-flung individuals and dance companies take part. The full program is still being defined at publication of this article; for details, see the Virgilio Sieni company's website.”

SHOWS AT TEATRO VERDI

The ‘Teatro Pagliano’, which assumed its current name, ‘Teatro Verdi,’ in 1901, was built during the Grand Ducal period in Florence on the former site of the fourteenth century Stinche Prison. During the nineteenth century, Florence – which was also the capital of Italy - witnessed the construction of many theatres. The Teatro Verdi is the only one still in operation, having lived through a century and a half of history and tremendous change. For Florence and the whole Tuscan region, this theatre represents the focal point for special events and occasions, musical events, and popular performances. The Teatro Verdi was the dream project of Girolamo Pagliano. Pagliano was a former baritone and successful pharmacist who invented an elixir for long life. One of the seven largest theatres in Italy, its importance was clear from its inauguration on September 10th 1854. Viscardello, the original title of Verdi’s Rigoletto, was the theatre’s inaugural performance. The tradition continues today, with wonderful events and concerts at the stunning venue.

MUSIC FOR NOVEMBER

MUSICA DEI POPOLI: ETHNIC MUSIC FESTIVAL AT FLOG

Until December

The festival “Musica dei Popoli”, born in Florence in 1979, was the first international gathering of ethnic and folk music in Italy, and one of the first festivals of ethno-music in the world. The festival's goal is to share the knowledge of world's musical cultures. For this reason, it has been promoting and "giving a voice" to the most distant populations, geographically and culturally speaking, inviting hundreds of artists from all over the world. In its 30 editions, Musica dei Popoli has been presenting more than 300 artists, coming from 80 nations and five continents, among which soloists, and ensembles of vocal and instrumental music, as well as evening of music and dance, or music and theatre.

The artistic program of the "Musica dei Popoli" features folk and ethnic music, both from Italy and beyond. Throughout the years the festival proved that "music" is not only classical music, Anglo-American pop/rock or jazz, and that folk and ethnic music offers a rich cultural and artistic patrimony which is not marginal or inferior to Western-made music.

At the venue 'FLOG' in via Michele Mercati, 24b

VOLAREARTE AT PISA AIRPORT: NOW IN ITS THIRD YEAR

Until 2019

Text from: discoverytuscany.com

“Well into the third edition of this initiative by the Henraux Foundation together with the Tuscany Airports, you will find a collection of 9 sculptures from Park Eun Sun gracing the Pisa airport.

This renowned Korean artist, a long time resident of Versilia, arrived in Italy to satisfy his desire to work with Apuane marbles. His artwork, known on an international level, is remarkable for the pure geometric forms composed of bi-color slabs of marble.”

Galileo Galilei Airport, Pisa

GIOVANNI BOLDINI AND THE SEASONS OF THE FAMILY FALCONIERA ON DISPLAY IN PISTOIA

Until January 6, 2018

Text from: discoverytuscany.com

“The exhibition aims to bring back the extraordinary creative moment of the master of Ferrara, when moving between Pistoia, Florence and Castiglioncello. The pictorial cycle invites you to probe the mystery around Mrs. Falconer's origins, her role as patron of the unhappy but genius Boldini and the Macchiaioli style.”

LEGATI DA UNA CINTOLA, THE IDENTITY OF A CITY AT PRATO

Until January 14

Text from: discoverytuscany.com

“The Virgin's belt, housed in a Chapel of the Duomo of Prato, will be at the center of the new exhibition in the Palazzo Pretorio Museum. The Sacred Belt, about 80 centimeters of finely green wool and gold-plated brocade, has, since the 13th century, been a precious symbol of the city's identity value and the engine of Prato's artistic events.”

DUTCH MASTER ESCHER ON DISPLAY AT PISA

Until January 28, 2018

Text from: discoverytuscany.com

“The exhibition will present a full review of all the hypnotic, astonishing and overwhelming masterpieces of the great Dutch, with the help of some curious exhibition solutions designed by the architect Cesare Mari and thanks to the use of technologies and multimedia, one of the characteristics of organized exhibitions at Palazzo Blu.

While remaining a long-standing landscape interpreter, Escher explores more and more the horizons of visual illusion, through geometric compositions, or creating "impossible" architectures.”

AMBROGIO LORENZETTI, AMAZING ARTIST FROM THE XIV CENTURY, ON DISPLAY IN SIENA

Until January 28

Text from: discoverytuscany.com

“Ambrose was one of the greatest painters of the whole of Europe in the 14th century, but one can say - as it may seem like a paradox - that he is a little-known artist.

He is universally known as the painter of 'Good Governance', the cycle of allegorical paintings and the extraordinary urban and rural visions. But besides this, the painter is not known by the unmistakable creativity that has profoundly renewed many iconographic traditions.”

CIVITELLA PAGANICO: FESTA DEL BUCO UNTO

November 11 - 12

Text from: discovertuscany.com

First press olive oil festival

This is a manifestation dating back centuries ago that is deeply rooted in the ancient traditions of the town. It's a sort of food festival dedicated to the tastes of Fall, like the new oil and wine that also offers music, typical markets and fun for everyone! Are you maybe wondering what Buco Unto is? Local inhabitants of Civitella Paganico picked up this nickname for their oily pant bottoms. How did this happen? It is said that when people, men in particular, went to Holy Mass and kneeled down to pray, their greased shoes always dirtied their pants, and thus leaving their bottoms oily ;-).

ROCCALBEGNA: RITO DELLA FOCARAZZA

November 24

Text from: discovertuscany.com

Set the night on fire

Another manifestation that is strongly tied to local cultural identity is Rito della Focarazza, that takes place every year in Roccalbegna on the 24th and 25th of November. It's a sort of competition among the contrade (quarters) of the city, that will try to get to the stollo, an oak beam erected in the middle of the focarazza, in English: a woodpile set alight, and steal it for their own rione, making their way through the streets of Roccalbegna.
